We believe that the most important time in an inmate's recovery is the first 24 to 48 hours after his or her release. We help to guide newcomers to find the support they need upon their release. Each group based on their "Group Conscience", can send the funds to the places: Group, District, if applicable their Regional Corrections Committee, or GSSA. If the group supports their local County Jail, or State facility, they can use the funds themselves. If their district supports a few county jails or state facility, they can choose to send their funds to the District. It is up to the group.
